

Collegians Can Get AF Commissions

In an attempt to meet the increasing demand for young officers to fill key executive positions, the Air Force has placed emphasis on its officer training school program for college graduates.

The program, open to both male and female college graduates, provides the opportunity for qualifying applicants to obtain a commission as an Air Force second lieutenant upon completion of a three month training course.

According to Staff Sgt. Warren R. Franks, local Air Force recruiter, college seniors are not required to wait until graduation to apply. Applications may be submitted up to 135 days prior to graduation but in no case will acceptance be final until after graduation.

To qualify, an applicant must be between 20½ and 27½ years of age; a U.S. citizen; of excellent moral character; and meet the prescribed mental and physical standards. Female applicants must be single with no dependents but this restriction does not apply to male applicants.

Detailed information of the officer training program may be obtained at Air Force recruiting office at 1319½ Satori Ave. or by calling Sgt. Franks at FA 8-1404.

Austrian-born Dr. Erik von Kuehnelt-Leddihn, internationally known commentator who recently returned from a personal observation of the African situation, conducted a seminar with Model United Nations students on the Marymount College campus in Palos Verdes Estates. He spoke on "The African Turmoil."
